INTRODUCTION:

Corruption has a history of several thousand years. In written sources, it is mentioned about corruption during the Sumerian Kingdom in BC. The fact that corruption has reached our days shows that, like other vices, it can not be eradicated with its root. Even the developed Western countries could not get rid of corruption altogether. But the Prevention of corruption, the fight against it, which is a threat to the development of society, has always and always been in progress in all states on earth.

Abu Nasr Forabi noted that one of the problems that will be solved in the construction of civil society in the work "the city of Fazel people" is corruption. The same corruption is the system of the market economy in kusanda, the two-and multilateral cooperation between the states, a brutal obstacle in the development of business and investment. Every year at the time of the opening and closing of dozens of joint ventures lay such "invisible hands". The original reasons why the introduction of foreign investment in a country with a high level of corruption is declining are also similar to those of a dangerous illusion.

MAIN PART:

Corruption is a wide-ranging concept, it can not be ignored that it has become a daily activity of some layers, categories, groups of society, intertwined and rotted among themselves. "Sensitive", "more confused" on this issue, researchers long ago write about the fact that the law enforcement agencies of the state are somewhat vigilant, vigilant, as well as more active work of non-governmental organizations, various commissions, journalists, the system of independent courts. Politicians, sociologists, psychologists, historians, state and public authorities, political parties and, most importantly, practitioners should be concerned with analyzing the issue and finding solutions.

In the following years, articles on ways to combat corruption began to appear in the press of foreign countries, including the CIS. The analysis of the research carried out in the CIS member states shows that despite the fact that we have been saved from the regime of councils for thirty years, the judicial authorities are still standing until they become an obedient body of state power. This society will be highlighted in almost every speech of the head of our state about the rodent, naughty vices. When we see an organizational issue in the sessions of the regions, we first of all come across this issue.

Corruption is a "dragon" without borders, it consists of a clear "drawing"(scheme)of deception, bribery and "laundering" money. Although it is late in Russia, new measures are being sought against it.

According to the Academy of economic security of the Ministry of internal affairs of Russia, at the end of 2015, the level of criminalization of the economy in the country was in a very "crisis" state and reached the level of 40 percent of the gross domestic product (GDP)of the economy, in 1991-there or 11 percent.

According to the 2017-th year of the Anti-Corruption Research Center Transparency Int (TI), the index of the appropriation of the state of corruption in Russia was 2,3 points, falling to 143 — the place in 180 states-Gambia, Indonesia and Togo...

The above-mentioned International Organization has published its 2018 corruption Acceptance Index. According to the 100-point index, Uzbekistan received 23 points, ranked 158th in the overall rating among 180 countries and territories. This rating is calculated on the scale from 0 (very high level of perception of corruption) to 100 (very low).

The index of perception of corruption — the level of corruption in the public sector is assessed by experts and business representatives. As in previous years, the average score of more than two-thirds of the countries of the world stands at an indicator from 43 to 50. According to the developers of the index, this is evidenced by the fact that most countries-could not seriously control corruption and the crisis of democracy.

Denmark took the lead back from New Zealand with 88 "points". Strong decimals entered Finland, Singapore, Sweden and Switzerland (85 points each), Norway (84), the Netherlands (82), Canada and Luxembourg (81 points). The worst indicator is in Somalia (10), Syria, South Sudan (13), Yemen and North Korea (14).

"Our research has shown a clear link between healthy democracy and the fight against corruption in the public sector," said Delia Ferreira Rubio, chairman of the International Organization.

In 2018, Estonia ranked 18th in the countries of the former USSR on the corruption awareness index, Georgia-41, Belarus-70, Kazakhstan — 124, Tajikistan — 152, Uzbekistan — 158.

RESULTS AND DISCUSSIONS:

The Anti-Corruption Agency, established in accordance with the decree of the president of the Republic of Uzbekistan "on additional measures to improve the Anti-Corruption System in the Republic of Uzbekistan" on June 29, 2020, along with the formation and implementation of the state policy in this regard, should work hard to improve this indicator.

We believe that this should be given importance to one factor, that is, the legality of the withdrawal of money when buying real estate should be checked. However, we do not even ask where the owners of very expensive houses have the money to buy or build them (in 2021 the declaration will be filled out, until then the property can be transferred as much as possible to "other").

There is also a shortage in the legislative system. For example, the fact that singers or some other category of people want to build as many Tower houses as they want, to have an eye on television means that the laws do not work well. There is also a moral side to the issue, such a royal residence in a light way can arise in a situation similar to the fact that at one time there were a lot of young people who wanted to enter the training that the prosecutor or DAN prepared for the officer.

So, although it is not a talent, but simply a technique, relying on a Phonogram, leads to a 10-fold increase in the number of rooms where the mummy earns money. This idea can be opposed by many. But we are in favor of the fact that the "golden rule" is not broken, as in society, maintaining an equal balance in all spheres. Those who are engaged in recording, reproducing and selling CD discs of the song mentioned in the Phonogram can also not tolerate such "privileges" as the designation, large economic losses of the state budget due to non-payment of taxes. Such corruption has created conditions over the years for the root cause, the enrichment of a group of people. Let's say, is it not a clear view of injustice and corruption to create an opportunity for a literate singer to earn more money than either a disc Duplicator himself-taught school teacher or a scientist who has been engaged in science for many years?!

The sharp change in the amount of divergence in the incomes of the population strata worries economists. For example, according to the former Union statistics office, this was 3,28 in 1956, which reached 3,38 in 1986-nearly equal, while in the years of independence the difference in income of the rich and the poor increased significantly. According to official data, it is known that the income of 10 percent of the most disadvantaged people exceeds the income of the poorest citizens in 10-15 — fold.

Many experts note that the real discrepancy in the middle is 25 — 40 times, given the "hidden economy". The poor population that is currently living below the living minimum is 15 percent. A big shake has been observed in this matter since 2019, even though a whole ministry is working, the difference in the middle can make different opinions appear in the layers of society.

We believe that the gradual introduction of the Anti-Corruption System of internal control ("complayens-control") in all state and economic management bodies in 2020-2021 will give impetus to radical changes in the sphere. In order to fulfill the requirements of the International Convention, the agency is entrusted with the duties and powers of the National Coordinator of the Republic of Uzbekistan for coordination of activities in this direction, the development of the "road map" to improve the position of our country in the international ratings, serves to further increase the status and prestige of the office.

It means that bold steps are being taken to eliminate corruption that is becoming an obstacle to national development. The main thing is that no matter how the law-enforcement agencies act in the fight against corruption, we cannot organize an effective struggle against this scourge unless our people establish impressive public control, without compromising this disgusting act.

Of course, in our country, too, drastic measures are being taken to combat this evil. Studies have shown that the most effective means of eliminating a malady is the struggle with the cause, and not with the malady itself.

The fact that corruption becomes a serious obstacle in the implementation of both political and economic reforms in our country is of concern to the public. Therefore, the processes of democratization and modernization of the Society initiated by our compatriot continue with difficulty. The task of bringing into life any political, economic reform of our state, to make the people prosperous remains on paper, while the corruption schemes in the country, they want to quickly get rich without labor, own the "chain" of methods is cut off.

In this regard, we believe that it is necessary to dwell on another category separately. It is known that modernization in the young States, which entered the path of independence in the early 1990s, experienced an unnatural process. It was known to many that all the indicators were not "smooth" as they were written in the gazettes, but uneven night. Because although the state was subordinated to the chief reformer, the institution that carried out it remained in the hands of the bureaucracy. The class of apparatus bureaucrats does not want new ones, they do not want many of the old periods in which socialism Reigns. When we analyze the issue objectively in this respect, it becomes clear that the "influence" of bureaucracy on power is not inferior to corrupt ones.

CONCLUSION:

The issue of corruption and national development — the fate of the country and the future of the country-is more important and relevant than ever. The reason for this came the period when the people of our country were working day and night in order to restore the place of material and spiritual wealth lost during the centuries of colonialism, to develop the economy, to preserve the national identity.

Both the Japanese and the Chinese and the Singaporeans achieved national development by preserving the people's spirit, strengthening religious values, absorbing the ideology of patriotism into consciousness. We are also worthy people to follow the same path of light. After all, the full use of freedom, the rich opportunity created by freedom, will be closely connected with the solution of the problem of corruption in Uzbekistan, and, if left out, how the three authorities adhere to the principle of mutual stagnation.

In short, corruption is a dangerous crime that poses a threat to security in the development zone. It is necessary that the fight against this evil is the work of all, and not only the relevant authorities. Only then will we have eliminated this risk.
