Formation of the scientific outlook of the young generation is always in the focus of attention of the leading people of the country was in the center. In all the systems that mankind has experienced, educated, intelligent, learned people made a significant contribution to world science and universal culture. One such person is Mahmudhoja Behbudi. Here we remember his words. "Young people," he says, "want to serve the country, the people... There is a lot of work ahead of them." Other nations are developing every minute. We repeat that youth and adults are one need to Work..." These words do not leave anyone indifferent, because they have a powerful effect. From this we there is a goal to understand that young people always look up to adults, more precisely, to educated people. Should follow the teachers. There is always something to learn from someone. According to most people, teachers are the best guides for us on this path.

After all, as Otto von Bismarck said, "In every country there is a political attitude towards the teacher the strength or weakness of that country will be revealed." Teachers are the most dedicated members of society we are not wrong to say that they are people. Our forefathers should always teach their children from good, wise and great people those who came calling. Almost everyone gets their knowledge from teachers, even their own teacher speaks and thinks like him. That's why the teachers are clear about what they are saying it is appropriate for them to be sure and base their knowledge on the basis of facts. Sometimes reading and of children who have not achieved good results in discipline and are trying to do so it is important to cheer up. Encouragement gives strength to children and they have it increases optimism and adds strength to their strength and enthusiasm to their enthusiasm. Children have a lot of hearts because they are sensitive, they can quickly get upset, or else, their spirits may sink. This of course, it will not affect his future. It is also good to criticize them a lot it's not. If a child encounters only criticism in life, he will only criticize and scold others learns to give. Teaching is such a responsible profession that they are also responsible for the education of children. They are whole they educate the citizens of a society.

As Abdulla Awlani said, "There is a little between education and training even if there is a difference, the two are not separated from each other, the body of one is like a soul and a body. Of course, where there is education, there is knowledge. Education is especially important for us uzbeks. A person's behavior and respect for elders are important qualities. That is why among our people: who is your teacher? Who are you kidding there are questions like Yes, parents too together with teachers, they should contribute to their child's education. After all, a child theirs.

In our country, attention has been paid to teachers and this continues, and the saying "A teacher is as great as your father" did not come out for nothing. This is Article 52 of our recently revised constitution. Reflected in the article. Protecting the honor and dignity of state teachers takes care of their social and material well-being, professional growth. Quality education, of course, depends on the teacher. They support teachers with extensive knowledge and experience at the state level, attention is being paid to expanding its ranks. It is impossible not to glorify the teachers who educate the youth and prepare the successors of the country's prosperity. We too, we are proud to have chosen the teaching profession. In the future, we will also be perfect people. We try to contribute to education.
