Despite the work carried out in the framework of the national programs in the field of education in the Republic of Uzbekistan and a number of positive changes achieved, the improvement of the quality and efficiency of education, the use of the conditions and opportunities created in it are among the most urgent issues today. There is a need to develop and implement the mechanisms that shape the motivations of young people to learn and improve the system of their knowledge and educational process and quality control through new, non-traditional methods of teaching. These are the factors that make it necessary to improve the continuous education system and take effective measures to raise the effectiveness of education to a new level of quality. One of the priority tasks of education is to establish national and universal values in the minds of young people, to form practical and life skills for them to find their place in society, and to develop social and legal skills of young people.

Legal education directs a person's level of legal consciousness to understanding the most general legal principles and norms that meet the interests of a person, society, and the state. The formation of legal consciousness largely depends on legal education. According to the decree of the President of the Republic of Uzbekistan "On the fundamental improvement of the system of raising legal awareness and legal culture in society", in raising legal awareness and legal culture in society, first of all, special attention should be paid to the systematic and organic conduct of education. , starting with the pre-school education system, instilling legal awareness and legal culture in all layers of the population, widely promoting the idea of maintaining a balance between personal interests and the interests of society is defined as the main task. Also, in this decree, educational and educational activities are directed to increase the level of legal consciousness of a person until he understands the most general legal principles and norms that meet the interests of man, society, and the state. children should be aware of the rules of behavior in pre-school education institutions, get basic understanding of moral and some legal norms, expand and deepen this knowledge in the course of further education, acquire a clearly expressed legal character it is stated that it will bring. We need to continuously continue our work on raising legal awareness and legal culture in the society. We should start legal education from the preschool education system, and the first skills in this regard should be instilled in the hearts of our children for life. A scientifically based program for improving legal culture should be prepared for each field and direction, all stages of education. First of all, it is necessary to seriously approach the study of the Constitution. I believe that it is necessary to create textbooks such as "Constitutional Alphabet", "Constitutional Lessons", "Constitutional Basics" for general education schools. The Ministries of Justice, Preschool Education, Public Education, Higher and Secondary Special Education will be responsible for the affairs, the president stated in his reports. That is why the teaching of law is of particular importance in the education system of our country. It is important for young people to study law in depth. Teaching of these subjects, teaching methods, and ability to teach them skillfully are of particular importance in the interest of young people in studying law. This science is aimed at this goal. In our country, special attention is currently being paid to education and upbringing of young people. Education has always been the basis of society's development. Because a person is at the center of all relationships and connections in society. The revolution in science, technology and information has turned a person and his scientific and educational potential into a decisive factor of socio-economic development. Application of the advanced results of scientific and technical development, intensification of production, along with the use of high-efficiency technical technologies, and most importantly, training of highly qualified specialists is one of the important directions in this regard. The problems of ensuring stable economic growth, taking a worthy place in the international division of labor, and ensuring the competitiveness of the national economy largely depend on the knowledge, skills, and ability of the workforce to work according to the situation. In order to achieve the great goals that we have to achieve in the future, first of all, we need to train highly qualified specialists who meet the needs of the times. As the entire education system is being reformed according to the new reform "Law on Education" adopted in our country, the main focus is on the training of personnel of this level. We have no right to forget the importance of education of young people and the educational system in their education, the unique wealth of the intellectual and cultural potential of our President, and the crucial importance of bringing up rare talents to maturity. Developed countries have reached today's high level of development precisely because of this - this is also recognized in their facts. The training of knowledgeable specialists and the development of human potential depend in every respect on the teachers, on their knowledge in organizing and teaching the teaching process. That is why special attention is being paid to the organization of the educational process and the use of educational methods that help young people to gain deep knowledge. Organization of the educational process in the current era requires the teacher not only to have deep knowledge, but also to have pedagogical skills, to know various methods of teaching and to work tirelessly on himself. In order for our children to be able to think legally from a young age, the basics of legal knowledge have been started in our country since high school. The students of the higher education institution, especially the legal education institution, are not only able to think legally, but also to identify and analyze a wide range of legal problems, to evaluate the development trends of legal reforms, and to feel how these changes may result in the future. it is necessary to know, to learn to visualize. For this, in-depth knowledge of law is required. It is important to choose the right method for studying law. Theoretically, if the correct method is not chosen during the lesson regardless of the teacher's knowledge, it does not give the expected result.

It is possible to effectively organize the educational process only when the teacher's knowledge is combined with pedagogical skills. For this, it is necessary to know various methods of organizing the educational process and their application. He teaches the methods of studying law and how to apply it in the course of the lesson.
